One system for the Foundation, the Tournament and T-Time

A plan to make the work you already do findable, fundable and easier to run alone.

Robert, thank you for the letter and the flyers. I read everything you sent, and I spent a day looking at how the Foundation, the May 8 tournament and T-Time show up to a golfer, a sponsor or a grant officer who goes looking. This proposal is what I found, what I would build, in what order, and what it costs.

You said the goal is one practical platform you can maintain yourself. That is the right goal, and it is the one this plan is built around. Nothing in it needs you to learn a new tool. Your part stays what it is now: the vision, the relationships, the flyers you already design well, and a short weekly call with me.

WHAT I FOUND

The work is real. Four tournaments, fifty students to the Florida Classic, a backpack drive with the mall, and a Hall of Fame father on two rolls. The problem is that almost none of it can be found, measured or built on. In plain terms:

- The tournament is hidden. The only path to registration is the QR code on a printed flyer. The registration page is set to unlisted, so it does not appear on GolfStatus or in Google. The links on Facebook and the Sebring Chamber still point to the 2024 BirdEase page, which now says "Unpublished Event." A golfer who searches "Saffold golf tournament" lands on a third-party listing that names the wrong course.

- The 2027 page carries leftovers from 2025. Among them: the text says May 9 where the header says May 8, the start time is set to 10 AM instead of 8 AM, the team price switches from $330 to $360 on April 2 while the flyer says $330, there is no $100 day-of price and no two-for-one package, the hole-in-one copy says $20,000 where the flyer says $5,000, registration closes May 3 where the flyer says May 1, donations are switched off, and the confirmation email a golfer receives begins "Dear Sponsors." It has had zero registrations since it was created in May.
- The Foundation has no home on the web. No website, no Google Business Profile, no email list, no contact or volunteer form. Three different addresses and three different phone numbers circulate across directories, and the Yelp and MapQuest listings publish a home address.
- T-Time has an open lane. I looked for anyone who keeps a calendar of African American golf tournaments in Florida. Nobody does. Google returns nothing useful for "black golf tournaments Florida calendar." The statewide association your father helped found in 1972 has seven affiliate clubs, each with its own events and its own half-finished website. They are your first listings.
- Money is available if the paperwork is in order. The Elks National Foundation grants through Sebring Lodge #1529 close January 20, 2027. Walmart's local grant cycle closes November 30, 2026. Google gives verified nonprofits free email on your own domain and up to $10,000 a month in search advertising, but only to an organization with a real website.

> One small thing first, at no charge. John Simpson's new Hall of Fame inductee page lists your father, Class of 1996, with the words "Record incomplete." I built that page for John. Send me one photograph and three sentences about your father and I will have his record completed and confirmed with John this week. It costs nothing, and it gives every piece that follows a Hall of Fame page to point to.

THE ONE-PLATFORM ANSWER

You do not need a new tool for the golf day. GolfStatus is free to you, it already holds your packages, and replacing it would add work. What you need is the layer around it, built once and run for you:

- GolfStatus stays for registration, pairings, scoring and the day itself. I fix the page and keep it right.

- In4Par becomes the engine for everything year-round: the Foundation website, T-Time, your contact list, sponsor and volunteer follow-up, text and email reminders, the social calendar, and a dashboard of who said yes. I build it, I lock it down, and you see one simple screen.
- Donations run on a free nonprofit platform that sends tax receipts automatically, embedded in your site, so Zelle stops being the only way to give.

If you ever wanted to run without me, the free tools (Givebutter, Google Workspace for Nonprofits, Canva for Nonprofits) would still be yours. What you are paying for is the building and the running, not the software.

THE PLAN

Phase 0
THIS WEEK, NO CHARGE

Repair what is broken. Complete your father's Hall of Fame record with John. Fix the fifteen items on the 2027 GolfStatus page, make it public, switch donations on, and write a real confirmation email. Correct the Chamber listing, the third-party listing that names the wrong course, and the Facebook links. One name, one address (the P.O. Box), one phone number everywhere.

Phase 1
OCTOBER 26 TO NOVEMBER 20

Give the Foundation a home. Your own domain and a seven-page website: Home, About (with both Hall of Fame inductions), Programs, Tournament, T-Time, Donate, Contact. Sponsor, volunteer and contact forms that land in your list. A Google Business Profile with the P.O. Box. Email on your own domain instead of outlook.com. Google Analytics and Search Console so we can see what works. Text messaging registered in the Foundation's name. The Walmart grant filed before November 30, and the Google for Nonprofits application submitted.

Phase 2
NOVEMBER 23 TO JANUARY 15

Launch T-Time for the Expo. The African American Golf Expo runs January 24 to 28, 2027 in Orlando, alongside the PGA Show. That is the launch venue. I audit the site your developer built, connect it to your domain, and add an event submission form that feeds your list. We seed it with the thirty to forty Florida tournaments I have already identified, invite the statewide association and its seven clubs as founding partners, and print a calendar for the booth. I write the partner letters and the rate card for featured listings and sponsors.

Phase 3
JANUARY TO MAY 8

Fill the field and the sponsor board. The Elks grant filed before January 20. A two-for-one push before January 31. A thirty-name sponsor ask list drawn from companies already giving in Highlands County, with a two-page sponsor sheet and a weekly review of who has been asked and who has said yes. Eight to ten named volunteer jobs posted to the county's retiree volunteer program and the three high schools' service-hour offices. Reminders to every registered player the week of the tournament. After May 8, a thank-you to every player, sponsor and volunteer, and a one-page report of what the day raised.

WHAT YOU WILL SEE

- One screen on your phone: who registered, who sponsored, who volunteered, who still needs a call.
- A website and a T-Time calendar you can edit yourself, with me a text away.
- Numbers you can put in a grant application: visitors, registrations, dollars, volunteer hours.
- A sponsor list that renews itself next year instead of starting from zero.

WHAT I NEED FROM YOU

- A photograph of your father and three sentences for the Hall of Fame record.
- Logins for GolfStatus, Facebook, Canva and the T-Time site, and the name of your developer.
- The IRS determination letter and the EIN, which every grant and the text registration require.
- Thirty minutes a week on the phone. I bring the list, you make the decisions.

INVESTMENT

Phase 0: Hall of Fame record, GolfStatus repair, directory cleanup	No charge
Phase 1: Foundation website, measurement, profile, forms, donations, email, texting	$950 once

START PHASE 1, PAY $950 BY CARD

Phase 2: T-Time launch for the January Expo, partner outreach, printed calendar	$1,450 once

START PHASE 2, PAY $1,450 BY CARD

In4Par platform and support, after launch (hosting, texting, email, updates, the weekly call)	$97 a month

SET UP THE PLATFORM, FIRST 60 DAYS FREE

Total to build everything	$2,400

Each button opens a secure Stripe card payment page; nothing is charged until you choose to. The first sixty days of the platform are included, so the monthly fee starts after the Expo. Out-of-pocket items (the domain, about $15 a year; text message carrier fees, a few dollars a month) are passed through at cost. Grant applications in Phase 1 and Phase 3 are included. If you would rather tie part of my fee to results, I am open to a share of new sponsorship dollars in place of the Phase 3 work.

NEXT STEP

Send me the photograph and the three sentences, and I will start Phase 0 regardless of what you decide on the rest. If this plan reads right, use the payment button under the phase you want to start, or reply with "go" and I will send a short agreement and the list of logins I need. If it needs changing, call me. I would rather build the right thing than the fast thing.
